Police release image of man wanted in connection with £6,500 robbery on train

A PASSENGER was robbed of £6,500 worth of jewellery while he was travelling on a train between Finsbury Park and Alexandra Palace.

The incident took place at the end of September and this week British Transport Police released a CCTV image of a man they want to speak to in connection with the theft.

Detective Constable Sheela Chhaya, the investigating officer, said: "Shortly into the journey the victim was approached by a man he had noticed earlier from the platform at Finsbury Park.

"The man started speaking to the victim before threatening him to stay quiet and robbing him of a Rolex watch and a diamond bracelet as well as his bank and Oyster cards.

"Fearing for his safety, the victim did not challenge the man, who then left the service at Alexandra Palace."

The incident took place on Wednesday September 28 on the the 9.19pm First Capital Connect service from Finsbury Park, bound for Welwyn Garden City.

The victim stayed on the train and later reported the incident to police. Detectives are now appealing for any witnesses, or anyone who recognises the man (pictured right) to come forward.

DC Chhaya added: "Fortunately, incidents like this are very rare on the rail network, but threatening behaviour and the assumption by people that they can walk up to someone and rob them will simply not be tolerated.

"I believe this was a premeditated robbery and that the man responsible had identified the victim as his target before waiting for the opportunity to approach him.

"Since the incident we have followed a number of leads and reviewed CCTV, however to no avail so far. I am now appealing for the public's help to identify the person responsible."

Anyone with information can call British Transport Police on 0800 40 50 40, quoting reference B5/LNA of 07/12/2011, or call Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111.

16 months for HMV burglary

A MAN from Wood Green has been sent to a young offenders' institute for offences carried out in the August riots.

Unemployed Scion Fogah-Brown, 20, of Sirdar Road, was sentenced to 16 months at Wood Green Crown Court on Monday December 5 after pleading guilty to burglary at HMV in Wood Green High Road on August 7.

He was identified from blood found at the scene by police forensic officers. He was arrested on August 28 and charged with burglary the same day.

CRACKING DOWN ON DOMESTIC VIOLENCE

SEVEN people were arrested by Haringey police officers during an operation to crack down on alleged perpetrators of domestic violence and hate crimes.

A series of dawn raids last Wednesday resulted in some 140 people being arrested across the capital. The alleged offences committed by those arrested in Haringey included suspicion of common assault, ABH and taking a vehicle.

Operation Athena, which has been run twice a year since 2000, aims to transfer the fear on to the offender and encourage more victims to come forward.

It also aims to combat violence against women and encompasses hate and faith crime including racist, homophobic and disability motivated crime and crimes against the vulnerable or elderly by members of their own family or carers. It also coincides with the Met's You Make The Call, We'll Make It Stop. Call 999 campaign.

Haringey Borough Commander Detective Chief Superintendent Sandra Looby said: "We are committed to intervening in violence of any form at the earliest opportunity, to protect and support victims and to bring the perpetrators to justice.

"We know that domestic violence and all types of hate crime are under-reported and we urge people, including friends and family of those involved, to tell us what is happening so we can help them and hold the perpetrators to account for their actions.

"We have a dedicated team of experienced officers who treat victims sensitively and with respect and work closely with partner agencies to ensure victims are provided with wraparound support.

"Today's operation provides a glimpse of the ongoing work we are carrying out to tackle hate crime and protect the community in Haringey."

In the last financial year (April 2010 to March 2011) in Haringey, police received reports of 1,516 domestic violence offences, 119 racist and religious hate crime offences and 20 homophobic offences.

Community choir's delight over £6,000 funding boost

On song: Tottenham Community Choir will use the cash to buy musical equipment

MEMBERS of Tottenham Community Choir were singing the praises of NatWest after landing £6,000 from the bank's Community Force scheme.

NatWest is working to support people, projects and charities making a real difference to where they live.

The award of £6,000 to the choir will enable it to buy much-needed musical equipment, which will further develop the talents and capacity of the choir.

A spokesman for the choir said: "We want to provide yet more opportunities for local people to sing, make friends, promote well-being and alleviate social isolation.

"We wish to extend a heartfelt thank you to all who took the time to vote for us."

Tottenham Community Choir rehearses at Downhills School, in Philip Lane, South Tottenham, every Tuesday and new members are welcome.

Primary school lands food award

A HARINGEY primary school has become the first in London to achieve the Food For Life Partnership's Gold Award.

The award means Chestnuts Primary School, in Black Boy Lane, South Tottenham, is a hub of good food culture in its community.

Chestnuts school runs its own catering service with the support of Eagle Solutions. School meals are at least 75 per cent freshly prepared, 50 per cent is sourced locally and 30 per cent organic, and more than 70 per cent of pupils choose to eat school meals.

Reception teacher Julie Maher, who is responsible for the Food For Life Partnership programme at the school, said: "Food has such a huge impact on the children. Learning about what they eat - or should eat - is just so important for their physical, personal and intellectual development.

"They understand about where food comes from, not because they've read about it, but because they've actually seen it first hand. The benefits definitely outweigh the time and energy you have to put into it. The result is the children! They are positive, noticeably happy, contented and keen to learn."

Chestnuts has worked with the Food For Life Partnership to transform its school food culture by making lunchtimes a positive feature of the school day. It also takes part in farm visits, as well as cooking classes and other activities.

It has five chickens of its own that run freely around the school and sells free-range eggs to parents and Haringey residents.

As well as other benefits, headteacher Cal Shaw has seen an improvement in attendance at Chestnuts since joining the scheme.

She said: "There are fewer incidents in the playground at lunchtimes, and there have been no exclusions for almost 12 months. And it's not just pupil behaviour that has improved - the school has experienced improved academic attainment results for three consecutive years."

Andrew prepares to head south for winter challenge

ANDREW Carnie is preparing to swap north London for the South Pole as part of a fundraising challenge in aid of a charity which supports homeless young people.

A century after Captain Robert Scott's ill-fated expedition, Andrew and a team from Homebase DIY stores will be battling against wind speeds up to 80mph and minus 40C temperatures to travel the 704km in order to reach their destination and also help raise £250,000 for Centrepoin.

The trading director for Homebase said: "Centrepoin does an excellent job helping to protect some of the most vulnerable members of our society - homeless young people. It's worth doing everything we can to help make a difference."

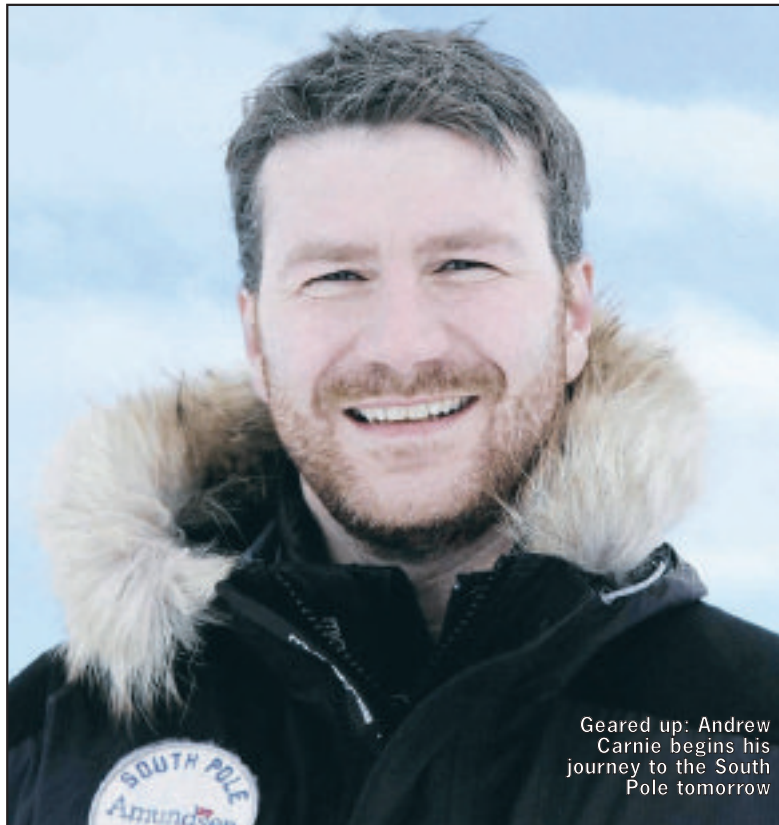

Andrew, who is from Haringey, and Team Homebase are leaving tomorrow (Thursday), flying to South Africa and then Antarctica, where the team will spend 10 days acclimatising at the Russian base NOVO, trekking through the mountains.

The race is due to start on New Year's Day and after dragging 75kg of food and equipment each day, the team hopes to reach the South Pole in three weeks.

Unlike many of the teams taking part, Andrew is a relative novice, having "only" run the North Pole marathon in 2010. But from training in freezers, to convincing other Homebase directors to join him in Centrepoin's Big Sleepout on the streets of London, the drive and determination is willing him to his goal - of reaching the £250,000 mark and the South Pole.

"Homebase has already kindly agreed to be a sponsor for my endeavour and colleagues have been very generous in their support and getting behind various events," Andrew added. "The company has also been involved in providing work experience opportunities for homeless young people through Centrepoin's Workwise initiative.

"Workwise is powerful because it gives young people their first experience of the working world, helps persuade them to believe they are employable and provides invaluable experience for their next job application. Simple, practical support like this can dramatically change lives."

Geared up: Andrew Carnie begins his journey to the South Pole tomorrow

Crouch End traders do their bit for riots cause

TRADERS in Crouch End have released a calendar to help raise money for the victims of the summer riots.

All proceeds from the sale of the calendar will go to Haringey Community Circles, a charitable initiative set up by the traders and YMCA's Jim Shepley following the violence in Tottenham and Wood Green in August.

Hornsey and Wood Green MP Lynne Featherstone has visited the area to meet the people behind the scheme.

They include the Haberdashery's Massimo Bergamin, Budgen's Andrew Thornton, Food From The Sky's Azul-Valerie Thome and Haringey Community Circles administrator Jazz Rasool, who are jointly backing the project.

Mrs Featherstone said: "The stunning N8 calendar really captures the essence of Crouch End.

"Not only does it portray local traders, but more so, it really captures the generosity of this community, in raising funds to help fellow Haringey residents who have suffered following the summer's riots.

"Massimo, Andrew, Azul, Jim and Jazz should be proud of what they have achieved.

"I've got mine and would encourage all Crouch Enders to get one for their homes, and in the process back a great cause."

In the mood for dancing: Cerebro will perform at the Bernie Grant Arts Centre

Troupe is back home for a Christmas show

A DANCE troupe that found fame on a TV talent show are set to wow audiences with their new live show this week.

Cerebro will be performing Just Wanna Dance at the Bernie Grant Arts Centre, Town Hall Approach Road, Tottenham, until Saturday.

The all-male, six-strong group from north London appeared on Sky TV's Got To Dance. They are now looking to provide an alternative among the traditional pantomimes of the festive season.

Manager Karl Murray said: "As local boys, we're really excited to be performing at the Bernie Grant Arts Centre. We've had a really successful year and the guys have worked incredibly hard on this new show."

"The show has a strong positive message. We learn about the six young guys' struggle between living everyday lives and following their passion for dance."

In the past year, that passion has taken Cerebro to Romania and Denmark and, closer to home, to Norwich, Bristol, Kent and all over London, where they have wowed audiences at the Breaking Convention at Sadler's Wells and at the Jack Petchey Awards at the South Bank Centre.

John Baraldi, chief executive of the Bernie Grant Arts Centre, said: "We're very happy to have a local group working with us on our big Christmas show."

"Once again, Tottenham is proving that it can lead the way culturally. While other theatres are putting on the same old pantomimes with reality TV 'stars' that no-one has heard of, we're supporting six young men who have genuine talent. This is 90 minutes of high energy entertainment."

To book tickets, call the centre's box office on 020 8365 5450 or you can buy online at www.berniegrantcentre.co.uk

A SLOPPY START PROVES COSTLY

By Dominique Stafford

LUKA MODRIC admitted that Tottenham Hotspur had been made to pay for a poor first-half performance as their 11-match unbeaten run in the Premier League came to an end with a controversial 2-1 defeat at Stoke City on Sunday.

Spurs found themselves with a mountain to climb after two goals from Matt Etherington put the hosts in complete control by the interval.

However, the visitors were a different proposition in the second half and Emmanuel Adebayor pulled one back from the spot before the same player had a goal wrongly ruled out for offside – while Spurs also had two strong penalty appeals for handball waved away by referee Chris Foy.

But, rather than blaming the officials, star midfielder Modric admitted that they had been forced to pay the ultimate price for their poor start.

“We lost in the first half,” he said. “We started sloppily. Every corner kick and every throw-in was a problem for us. We couldn’t deal with them and they scored two goals.

“After half-time we changed a bit tactically and we played much better. We need to be happy with how we played in the second half. We just can’t allow ourselves to play so badly in the first half. It’s costly.”

Manager Harry Redknapp was less charitable towards the referee though as he was left fuming by the string of controversial decisions which went against his side – including the late dismissal of Younes Kaboul for two bookable offences.

He said: “We came away with nothing because there were two blatant handballs on the line and Adebayor was two yards inside when the ball was played to him.

“We were poor in the first half, I hold my hand up. We didn’t play well, but we changed it at half-time and in the second half we battered them.

“Unfortunately Foy got a couple of decisions completely and utterly wrong. From the start of the game I felt he wasn’t going to give us much. I just felt he was quite enjoying not giving us anything.”

Borough on the rise after a fine victory at Tring

HARINGEY BOROUGH climbed up into fourth place in the Spartan Premier Division table on Saturday after securing a 3-2 victory at Tring Athletic.

The final scoreline was identical to when the two sides had met in the FA Vase at the same venue three weeks earlier, and it was again an impressive first-half performance that set the platform for Borough’s victory.

Having soaked up a lot of early pressure, the visitors took the lead on 27 minutes when Roland Namquita latched on to a loose ball in the box and fired high into the net – and their position was further strengthened prior to the interval as Darrell Cox added a fine second with a superb lob from distance.

Cox and Richard Worrell were then thwarted by fine saves from Tring keeper Tom Vincent, but the hosts handed themselves a lifeline when Paul Jeffrey turned the ball into the net from close range.

However, Borough maintained their composure well and were able to regain their two-goal advantage late on as substitute Christopher Benjamin netted with aplomb.

Tring did pull one back through Che To in the fifth minute of stoppage time, but the goal came too late to have any impact on the result as the visitors held firm.

Haringey Borough face home games against Harefield United on Saturday and Royston Town on Tuesday.
